Lurline Bringing Few Passengers.

There are but sixteen passengers in the steamer Lurline due to arrive here on Saturday morning from San Francisco according to a wireless that has been received at the agency of Castle and Cooke, representing the Matson Navigation line.

The vessel was 1120 miles off the port at nine o'clock last night steaming through light variable winds and smooth seas. The Lurline is bringing down 1340 tons general cargo for Honolulu, 450 tons for Kahului and 70 tons for Port Allen. A later mailman mail of 125 sacks and 86 packages Wells Fargo express matter is included in the shipment.

The Lurline will dock at the old Hackfeld wharf.

Wilhelmina Brought No Coal.

Castle and Cooke, the local agents for the Matson Navigation line have learned with considerable amusement and surprise through the columns of a morning paper that the big passenger steamer brought a cargo of coal from San Francisco. It has been generally supposed that the vessel carried a very satisfactory oil burning apparatus. The Wilhelmina arrived here yesterday morning with about 2800 tons cement, refrigerated meat and general cargo. About the only coal carried by this or other Matson boats is sufficient for use in the galley. The Wilhelmina is expected to call for 1100 to discharge 1200 tons cargo and take on sugar, this evening.

Claudine Brought Much Lumber.

Ohio Lumber comprised the larger share of general cargo that arrived this morning in the steamer Claudine. The vessel brought a fair list of cabin and deck passengers from Maui and Hawaii ports of call.

Purser Kibling reports good weather. The freight list included 2593 pieces Ohio lumber, 991 empty lime barrels, 15 crates chickens, 12 hams and 186 packages sundries. The vessel will be dispatched to regular ports at five o'clock on Friday evening.

Matson Wharf Congested with Freight.

The Matson wharf is piled high with freight and sugar these days. In consequence of the congestion there, the steamer Wilhelmina was shifted to the Oceanic wharf last evening and remained there for the night, going to the Hackfeld wharf this morning.

The Matson steamer Lurline due to arrive from San Francisco at an early hour on Saturday morning will be berthed at the Hackfeld wharf.

Manchuria Brings Coast Cargo.

According to cables received at the agency of H. Hackfeld and Company, the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria that sailed from San Francisco yesterday afternoon has six hundred tons general cargo for discharge at Honolulu.

According to present calculations this vessel will reach the port on Monday morning and probably receive a dispatch for Japan ports and Hongkong the afternoon of the same day.

Hall in With Sugar.

Today's arrivals included the steamer W. G. Hall from Kauai ports, May 17.—F. A. Richmond, P. Kamehameha, Dr. J. N. Martin, B. F. Heilbron, Mrs. J. M. Kaina, Mrs. Deas, J. Chalmers, Mrs. A. D. Skibner, Mrs. Geo. Lindsay, J. F. Raetz, W. F. Kane, G. Kima, M. Shiga, M. Hira Geo. W. Carr and 25 deck.

Greater Vigilance to Be Exercised Over Movements of Members of Steamship Crews While at the Port—Manchuria Bringing General Cargo from Mainland—Lurline to Arrive With Sixteen Passengers—Inter-Island boats reach Port.

Greater vigilance is to be exercised by the staff of customs inspectors over the movements of officers and members of the crew of steamships which make calls at the port of Honolulu.

Developments arising from opium smuggling within the past few weeks are said to have warranted much more attention being paid to coming and going of all those connected with visiting steamers. The prediction is also made that even passengers will not be immune should occasion arise where the finger of suspicion might be turned in their direction.

At the instance of Collector of Customs Stackable, John Kohler, an American water tender in the Pacific Mail steamship China was placed under arrest yesterday afternoon prior to the departure of that vessel for Japan ports and Hongkong.

Ten tons of prepared opium, made up into two compact packages each slipped in the hip pocket of the transients worn by Kohler have been confiscated.

The value of the dope that the Pacific Mail man attempted to get ashore is estimated at approximately $600.

The theory now held by the Federal officials is that a regular organized effort is being made to land contraband drug at this port.

Kohler was arrested while attempting to leave the gangway. He had started down the gangway but had been preceded by two other Pacific Mail employees. Taking no chances, the pair were stopped at the foot of the passage, and searched. Nothing was found and it is the supposition that discovering no opium on the person of the first two persons the inspectors might let the third party who in this instance was Kohler pass by in the rush. Doomed to disappointment, Kohler was held up and the passing of the hand of an inspector around his body revealed the presence of the two concealed packages.

The man at first professed to have found the drug but failed to give any explanation concerning why it was found on his person. He was placed in charge of the United States marshal and is held pending an examination.

The searching of all persons leaving trans-Pacific vessels during their stay at the port is destined to follow in the wake of recent developments.

AGAINST CORPORATIONS

made, and no delinquent should be induced by threats to invoke the power of the commissioner to compromise, and no assurance should be given of the probable action of the commissioner if an offer is made; but where the officers of a corporation are ignorant of a provision of law providing for a compromise of offenses against the revenue, and they desire to make an appeal for clemency in the manner provided, it is the duty of the collector to give them suitable instructions. The amount to be offered in each such case must be left to the discretion of the collector or any other revenue officer.

Instructions to Collector. Contral from Washington are as follows:

"The failure to file a return of annual net income within the period prescribed by law by any corporation, etc., subject to the special excise tax on corporations, is a violation of the express requirement of the statute for which a penalty is provided. Therefore, in accordance with the provisions of Section 2164, R. S., each corporation, joint stock company, etc., subject to the tax, which failed to file a return of annual net income on or before the first day of March and also failed to secure an extension of time not in excess of thirty days from the first day of March to cover the period within which the return was filed, should, without recourse to this office, be reported to the district attorney, with a statement of the facts, etc., in the case. When such report has been made to the district attorney, it will be proper for the collector to inform each delinquent corporation of their privilege to submit an offer in compromise as provided in Section 2225, R. S."

United States District Attorney Breckons stated this morning that he considered the cases against the delinquent corporations were fully made out and that they were placed in a position where they would have to comply with the penalties provided in the law.

The corporation income tax was recently held constitutional by a decision of the United States Supreme Court.

Another Kick ON THE COOK

Shipper Wikander of the bark Hawaii is up to his water line in trouble these days.

The presiding genius in the Hawaii's galley is alleged to be at the bottom of a difficulty that has resulted in a number of recently engaged union sailors and a mate deserting the ship this morning.

The bark of troublesome career has been discharging her consignment of fertilizer and has been ready for sea. Captain Wikander signed on a new crew of union men yesterday.

The most of them went aboard and then there followed an incipient eruption. They made a lusty kick against the culinary efforts of the new cook. They claimed that they were not receiving sufficient food to maintain that roundness of ope so dear to the heart of the sailor lad.

The skipper states that he has provided the fore-castle with about twenty-five pounds of life sustaining meat each day. He is at loss to know what becomes of it. The levitating crew meanwhile take up another notch in their leather belts and refuse to go to sea in the ship unless wholesome additions are made to the Hawaii menu.

CASES BELIEVED TO CONTAIN OPIUM

The cover of one box which had become damaged in the broaching.

United States District Attorney R. W. Breckons took possession of some paper that had been found among the wrappings. This paper is said to bear unmistakable signs of having been wrapped around bits of opium, as the imprint of the small boxes of dope is said to be plainly shown upon a close examination.

The finding of the broached merchandise has led the customs officials to exercise extreme vigilance in the examination of all freight now being removed from the Matson steamer.

The packages that received early attention at the custom house this morning revealed no opium. One question that confronts the Federal officials is, "Has it already been landed or is it still stowed away on the ship?"

The presence of the Wilhelmina and the Pacific Mail liner China at the port on the same day is also looked upon in certain circles as significant.

MORE POWER TO HORN BLOWERS

The members of the Hawaiian band are in line for better remuneration at the hands of beneficent city fathers.

The Ways and Means Committee now look with favor upon a plan which when carried into effect will mean a substantial increase in the pay of the boys who assist in advising the saddest and monotonous that might otherwise attend the departure of a coast-bound steamer or in the proper observance of a quiet Sunday afternoon.

Chairman Low has submitted a revised schedule of salaries that combines features likened to that of a sliding scale. For instance, the manipulator of the big bass drum can not expect the same display of munificence upon calling at the city paymaster's office as would the fellow that fairly blows his young life away through the brazen mouthpiece of the slide trombone or the smarting alto horn.

While the general increase does not make a very serious dent in Treasurer Shingle's gold reserve, nevertheless each member of the Hawaiian band will have occasion to smile as he now trudges up the stairway to the office of the City and County Auditor to draw his salary warrant.

Low also has favored the passage of a resolution which has to do with these players who through illness are compelled to lay aside the long-necked bassoon and the beating flute.

It will require the certificate of a physician to warrant a member of the band being placed on the sick list.

MRS. McQUAID ASKS HEARING

Mrs. Charlotte McQuaid is apparently determined that her divorce action against William McQuaid shall be heard as soon as possible.

Her attorneys have filed a motion to set the case for a day certain and Circuit Judge Robinson has accordingly named May 19th as the date upon which the motion to set the case will be heard.

William McQuaid was acquitted a short time ago of having shot Volney C. Driver in a pistol duel on Fort Street. Driver pleaded guilty and escaped with a nominal fine under his indictment for his participation in the shooting.

McQuaid alleged that Driver had broken up his home.

HONOR DR. RODGERS.

Olive Branch Rebekah Lodge will give an entertainment tomorrow evening in honor of Dr. Rodgers, Past D. D. G. S., to which Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and their friends are invited. A pleasing program has been arranged to follow the regular meeting of the lodge. One feature will be a large birthday cake, upon which has been set candles each representing a year in the long life of Dr. Rodgers. Brother Petrie will make a brief address.
